VOXUS Clients Win Top Honors In MobileVillage Mobile Star Awards

Gig Harbor, Wash. – November 10, 2008 – VOXUS, Inc. (www.voxuspr.com), a public relations consultancy for technology companies, today announced that several of its clients won MobileVillage Mobile Star Awards™ – CipherLab (www.cipherlab.com) and Nextrials (www.nextrials.com) both received Gold Stars, while AirMagnet (www.airmagnet.com) was awarded a Silver Star. The Mobile Star Awards Program recognizes the top mobile products, success stories and visionaries as chosen by thousands of readers of MobileVillage's free twice-monthly newsletter Go Mobile®.

“The Mobile Star Awards provide our clients with the opportunity to validate their solutions, people and approaches with real world users,” said Paul Forecki, President of VOXUS. “This type of customer-awarded recognition is a great way to drive a company’s customer, partner and competitive initiatives forward. We remain dedicated to helping our clients identify, pursue and secure the awards that distinguish leaders from the rest of the pack.”

CipherLab, a global leader in the design, manufacture and marketing of AIDC (Automatic Identification and Data Capture/Collection) solutions, won in the Hardware: Rugged Handheld category. Nextrials, a leader in clinical research software and services, secured top ranking in the Enterprise Software: Healthcare Data Capture category. AirMagnet, the leader in security, performance and compliance solutions for wireless LANs, received top honors from readers in the Enterprise Software: WLAN Management category. VOXUS client Perlego Systems was also nominated in the Enterprise Software: Devices Management category.

The VOXUS team has extensive experience leading public relations programs for mobile businesses, and in recognition of these client successes, the agency itself received a Gold Star in the Wireless and Mobile Technology PR firm category in the 2007 Mobile Star Awards Program.
